BOWLES ASKS FOR ANOTHER YEAR OF OPA

Tells Senators Controls Can Be Lifted Generally by June 30, 1947.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles told senators today that if price controls stay in effect there is reasonable hope that "we will be out of the woods of extreme inflationary danger by the end of 1946."

And if this happens, he testified at senate banking committee hearings, "controls can be lifted generally by June 30, 1947, in all but the areas of acute shortage."

Bowles opened the administration drive for a one-year extension of the Office of Price Administration which otherwise expires June 30, 1946.

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) read a letter from John W. Snyder, reconversion director, urging continuation of OPA without crippling change and asking continuation of subsidies to keep down retail prices.

Friends and foes of OPA awaited the signal for house debate on price control extension.

Test for President

The outcome poses for President Truman the severest test on economic policy since he entered the White House.

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla) told newsmen "there is danger OPA will be so amended—and made powerless to prevent inflation—that even the enemies of price control will be ashamed of their handiwork."

Before the legislative firing could get underway in the house, that chamber planned to dispose of another red hot issue—draft extension—then take up a pay increase bill for the armed services and devote part of its program to an observance of Pan American Day.

Thus the actual debate may not begin until about the time set for a mid-afternoon meeting of cotton state senators to give the price control agency a going over. Some have proposed that OPA be divested of control over all farm products.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), who called the meetings of senators, declared, "I'm disgusted with the way OPA is being run, and if they don't improve it I'll vote to knock the whole thing out."

Moderation Urged

The congressional uprising against OPA became so bitter that even one of the agency's foremost critics, Rep. Hartley (R-NJ), urged "moderation" in the house debate and action on amendments.

Paul Porter, OPA administrator, has contended that amendments already put into the bill by

Westinghouse Raises Wages for 10,200 Men

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 15—Westinghouse Electric Corp. today announced pay increases for about 7,000 salaried employes not covered by any bargaining unit and for about 3,200 additional supervisory employes.

W. G. Marshall, vice president in charge of industrial relations for the company, strike-bound since Jan. 15 and the demand of 76,000 production workers for 18½ cents an hour wage increases, said earnings of all non-supervisory employes not in bargaining units and working a 40 hour week would be upped $7 a week for those paid weekly and $30.30 a month for those paid monthly. Smaller increases will be given those working less than 40 hours a week. Pay hikes for the 3200 other workers will be announced by local managements, Marshall asserted.

Meanwhile, the executive council of the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions has turned thumbs down on a company offer of a 17½ cents an hour pay hike for its more than 20,000 white collar workers, unless certain proposed contract changes are changed.

The 20 to 5 vote was announced late last night by Federation President Leo F. Bollens, who said the council had been authorized by the 19 local salaried unions to accept or reject the proposal.

Bollens said negotiations would be held with the company to change the clauses, concerning a no-strike pledge, seniority provisions, contract cancellation and payment of union representatives for their negotiating time.

Meanwhile, the strike of 76,000 production workers at Westinghouse plants neared the end of its first week, with exploratory conferences between the company and the CIO United Electrical Workers slated to resume today.

Iran Order to Drop Case Fails to Ease UN Tension

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—Another sharp debate over the Iranian case was forecast for today's session of the United Nations security council despite instructions from the Iranian government to its ambassador to "immediately withdraw" the complaint before the council.

Iran had appealed to the UN over continued presence of Soviet troops, which Moscow said would be withdrawn by May 6, but today her spokesman in Tehran declared that "conditions and circumstances which dictated the giving of the complaint to the security council no longer exist." Russia previously had demanded that the question be expunged from the council's agenda.

British View

British sources took the view that the mere fact of Iran asking to have the matter taken off the agenda would not of itself end the business as far as the council was concerned. These sources took the attitude that it was strictly a council matter and any elimination move was up to the delegates.

The United States course was represented as being that the council had assumed troops would be withdrawn when it postponed consideration to next month and any statement to that effect now by either government would merely be confirmation.

A spokesman for the Mexican delegation said, however, that the council could do nothing but withdraw the question in view of the Iranian statement. Poland is expected to support the Russian position and vote for wiping the Iranian issue off the slate.

The 32nd session of the council convenes at 3 p. m.

Franco Up Front

The Iranian issue has top billing on the provisional agenda. Pressing it closely for world attention, however, is the Polish charge that the government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain is endangering world peace and is harboring German scientists who are "devising new means of warfare" in Spain. It has been reported—and officially denied by Spain—that these Germans were working on atomic research.

Poland wants the United Nations to take action against Spain, but left open just what form this should take. It could range from a simple statement against Franco to the full weight of the world police force which is being fashioned by the security council.

Iran Orders Envoy To Withdraw Case

By The Associated Press

TEHRAN, IRAN, April 15 — Prince Mozaffar Firouz, propaganda director, said today that Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador to the United States, had been instructed "immediately to withdraw Iran's complaint before the security council."

The nation previously had made an issue before the United Nations over the continued presence of Russian troops, which Moscow now says will be withdrawn by May 6.

Firouz made this statement:

"Today, we have given certain instructions to Mr. Ala. You are aware of the results of the agreement between the imperial Iranian government and Soviet Russia

U. S. TO INVOKE MEAT CONTROL

Wartime Quota System To Be Restored To Fight Off Black Market.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—The government announced today that more wartime slaughter controls will be restored soon in a move to curb black markets in meat.

OPA and the agriculture department, in a joint statement, said a slaughter quota system will be put into effect to provide "better distribution of the country's present meat supply through established channels and at ceiling prices."

OPA said the program will reduce operations "of certain slaughterers who have increased their slaughter greatly during recent months."

This, the agency added, will make it possible for established packers to obtain more livestock and thereby increase their production to more nearly normal levels."

FBI Probe Ordered

The announcement followed a justice department disclosure that the FBI has been directed to investigate reports that many packers have attempted to obtain government subsidies through false claims after buying live cattle at black market prices "thus making it impossible for other packers to secure cattle lawfully."

At the same time, the senate agriculture committee was told by an official of one of the "big four" packers that his company cannot buy enough cattle within OPA price ranges and that the situation cannot be corrected by price control.

The witness, R. H. Haynie, vice president of Wilson & Co., said "if nothing is done to correct it, the position of all legitimate slaughterers will be completely destroyed."

The committee was told by Haynie that plants of his firm with slaughter capacity of 31,000 cattle killed only two per cent of what beef they bought the same week five years ago, he declared.

Total Not Reduced

Stating that the quota system will not reduce the total amount of livestock slaughtered, OPA added:

"Its sole purpose is to direct and divide livestock more equitably among established operators, thus encouraging meat distribution through regular and legitimate channels."

The program will cover all commercial slaughter of cattle, calves and hogs. No effective date was

Meat Supply Runs Low Here

Little Improvement Expected in Situation Here This Week.

As a result of conditions, which have greatly reduced the retail meat supply throughout the country, Marion housewives will have little opportunity to buy fresh meats in any quantity this week or in the foreseeable future was the opinion of the large majority of local meat retailers today.

Of several meat dealers contacted this morning, only one said he had meat in any quantity. Others said they ran out of fresh meats Saturday, and that deliveries today were about one-fifth of normal.

Luncheon meats and other processed meats were available at most stores. Sausages and ribs could be also be had, but beef, veal, pork and bacon are and will be scarce, it is predicted. Top grade steaks are available

GOVERNOR MOVES TO AVERT PHONE STRIKE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—Gov. Frank J. Lausche scheduled a conference with union representatives and officials of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. of New Philadelphia today in an effort to avert a threatened strike which would shut off service in an area of 70,000 people.

The governor summoned company representatives and officials of the CIO-United Electrical Workers to the conference after District 7 of the union announced adoption of a resolution criticizing Lausche for not answering their request that he arbitrate the dispute.

Some 48 local unionists have voted a strike to enforce requests for a flat 25 cents an hour wage boost, T. H. Findley, company superintendent at New Philadelphia, reported. No date for the walkout was set.

The local includes long distance operators and maintenance men in the New Philadelphia and Dover exchanges.

Present rates, said Joseph Kres, district UEW vice president, begin at 45 cents an hour for operators and increase pregressively to 66 cents. Hourly pay of maintenance men ranges from 65 cents base to $1.15.

Jap Says Hirohito To Become Christian

By The Associated Press

DES MOINES, April 15—Emperor Hirohito is studying Christian doctrines and will embrace Christianity in the near future, Rev. Bokko Tsuchiyama, a Japanese Christian minister from Osaka, told a Methodist youth rally here yesterday.

The Japanese people also are looking for a new religion, the minister declared, adding "thousands are going to follow the emperor's lead."

"They feel Shinto and Buddhism have failed and are turning toward Christianity," Mr. Tsuchiyama asserted.

PAN-AMERICAN PLEA SOUNDED

Truman Calls for Continued Unity in Speech Marking Annual Event.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15 — President Truman called upon the American republics today to help eradicate "the poverty and despair" which breed wars.

Speaking at a Pan American Day observance, Mr. Truman urged continued hemispheric solidarity and resistance to the "forces of reaction" in the atomic era's "great and dangerous adventure."

"That (atomic) age," he told the governing board of the Pan American Union, "will either be one of complete devastation, or one in which new sources of power will lighten the labors of mankind and increase standards of living all over the world."

The President declared in a prepared speech that willingness to use force, if necessary, to prevent even the threat of aggression, "will not of itself eliminate the deep causes of unrest such as those responsible for two wars."

Underlying Causes

"Underneath the Nazi madness were the material distress and spiritual starvation born of poverty and despair," he said.

"The danger of war will never be completely wiped out until these economic ills which constitute the roots of war, are themselves eliminated. To do that we must achieve the kind of life—material, cultural and spiritual—to which the peoples of this world are entitled. To that objective we must dedicate all our energies and resources."

This objective, he said, is embodied in the world "democracy".

"It is fortunate that we of the Pan American nations have certain common, fundamental understandings of what the word 'democracy' means.

"Despite our differences in language and cultures, we do have in common a love of liberty, a recognition of the dignity of man and a desire to improve the well-being of our citizens."

Fundamental Rights

"Certain political rights," he said, "are fundamental to freedom—free speech, a free press, the right of peaceable assembly, freedom of conscience and the right of the people to choose their form of government.

"It is obvious that these goals require first of all the efforts of each nation within itself. But if we have learned anything in the last decade it is that no nation can stand alone. Only through a genuine co-operative effort can these goals be achieved in the world at large."

3 Cleveland Plants Idle as 2,000 Strike

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15 — A strike by 2,000 CIO United Automobile Workers today closed the three Cleveland plants of the National Screw & Manufacturing Co.

Pickets massed at the concern's main plant before the first shift starting time, but the company reported no disorder.

Approximately 300 office workers and 25 maintenance employes were admitted through the picket lines.

Officials of the union Local 834, CIO-UAW, said members decided yesterday to strike to enforce demands for an 18½-cent hourly pay increase. The company offered a seven-cent hourly raise

Gang Violence Rips Butte As Strike Closes Mines

By The Associated Press

BUTTE, Mont., April 15—Sleepless and jittery, Butte surveyed the wreckage of the second night of unbridled mob violence today as Sheriff Al McLeod reported he and his ten deputies had made several arrests in the wake of appeals by labor leaders and public officials for calm and order.

The sheriff declined to say how many persons were being held, reporting "they're all juveniles" and that they had been arrested for looting. He indicated several were girls.

Other authorities said the vandals—including one mob of about 500 — were mostly women and young children.

Gov. Sam Ford disclosed he was considering asking the federal government for help.

Declaring in Helena that he would talk with Butte peace officers — greatly outnumbered by depredators — before deciding whether to ask for federal assistance, the governor said:

"They (peace officers) assured me yesterday they had things under control but apparently they didn't."

Saturday night and again last night, gangs armed with axes and traveling by truck and automobile, roved the streets of this strike-bound copper-mining community of 40,000 and its suburbs, unloading at private homes to bash in windows and doors and throw wrecked furniture into the yards.

Two Are Wounded

Two youths were wounded by gunfire—the second last night.

Most of the homes damaged, Police Chief Bart Riley and Mayor Barry O'Leary said, were occupied by miners who stayed on their jobs on "the richest hill on earth" after a strike of 3,500 members of the CIO International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers began Tuesday.

The union strike commmittee, however, declared that neither the union nor its members was responsible for the disorders. A statement issued by the committee called on both union members and the general public to help maintain order.

Officials of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., against whose mines the strike was called in a dispute over retroactive pay, had no comment on the disorders.

The miners struck after they disagreed with the company over

Wyatt Seeking Cheap Homes

Drafts Orders To Put More Houses in $6,000 Class on Area Basis.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15 — Housing Boss Wilson W. Wyatt is drafting further construction controls designed to put more new homes on the market bearing price tags of $6,000 or less.

Officials in a position to know said today the national housing administrator expects to establish area quotas which will require that a certain percentage of homes in each region be built to sell at less than $10,000, the ceiling now generally in effect.

These officials, who withheld use of their names, said the quotas will be based on building costs in each area.

Under a preliminary plan subject to revision, the system would work something like this:

If NHA found that one-third of all new homes authorized in a certain area were scheduled to sell for $6,000 or under, it might rule that in the future 50 per cent of all authorizations should be in that price category.

If 20 per cent were being built to sell at from $6,000 to $7,500, this might be boosted to 30 per cent, and so on.

The aim will be to build as many homes for as much less than $10,000 as possible, but in each area some probably will continue to sell at the ceiling.

In areas where building costs are high, the minimum sale range might have to be, say $8,500 and under. But the system would work the same way.

Wyatt has said several times that despite the $10,000 ceiling he intends to see that most new dwellings sell for no more than $8,000.

COUNCIL TO MEET ON HOUSING PLANS

Will Study Response To Quonset Proposal.

With veteran requests for Quonset-type houses totaling more than 100 today, city council will meet in special session tonight to consider legislation on the veterans housing question.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler said today he had notified councilmen of tonight's meeting, and that City Solicitor Edwin B. Spohn was preparing a report on what sort of legal action could be taken by council.

Mrs. Eliza Young, in charge of the veterans' information center, said 112 requests have been received for the houses and more still are coming in. Six requests were received this morning, she said.

City and Chamber of Commerce officials have been advised by E. J. Truthan, area engineer for the federal public housing administration in Cleveland, that 20 of the Quonset buildings would be available in Marion. They would house between 80 and 100 persons, he said. Most of those who [illegible]

FOUR JAPS GET PRISON TERMS

Army Officers Responsible for Doolittle Fliers' Deaths Are Sentenced.

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI, April 15 — Four Japanese army officers were sentenced today by an American military tribunal to from five to nine years in prison at hard labor for the kangaroo court trial and execution of three Doolittle airmen.

The three airmen, Lts. Dean E. Hallmark of Dallas, Tex. and William G. Farrow of Darlington, S. C. and Sgt. Harold A. Spaatz, Lebo, Kas., were executed under the Japanese "enemy airmen's law."

The law was enacted by the Japanese war ministry after the Doolittle raid and made retroactive to cover the captured fliers.

In passing sentence after two days' deliberation, Col. Edwin R. McReynolds of Washington, D. C., chief of the commission, said the commission found that high Japanese government military officers, other than the defendants, were "responsible for the enactment of the enemy airmen's law and issuance of specific instructions as to how American prisoners should be tried, sentenced and punished."

The sentences were:

Lt. Gen. Shigeru Sawada, former commander of the Japanese 13th Army—five years at hard labor. The commission found that Sawada "had no knowledge of the trial, which was ordered by his superiors, until he returned from the front three weeks later.

Capt. Sotojiro Tatsuta, commander of the execution party—five years at hard labor. Said the commission, Tatsuta acted "only in his official capacity" and was "only obeying specific instructions from his superiors. There is no evidence to show he mistreated the prisoners."

Capt. Yusei Wako, courtmartial judge—nine years.

Lt. Ryuhei Okada, courtmartial judge—five years.

The commission found that both accepted fraudulent testimony without question but in passing the death sentence "acted on direct, specific instructions from superiors."

Wako was sentenced to nine years because he had legal training.

All sentences are to be served at "hard labor."

NINE MONTHS MORE OKAYED BY 290 TO 108

Inductions Are Banned Until Oct. 15 in Record Vote; Age Raised to 20.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15 — Legislation extending the draft law from May 15 of this year to next February 15 but prohibiting any inductions before October 15 was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

Passage was by a roll call vote of 290 to 108.

The bill also prohibits the induction of any 18 or 19-year-olds, limits the size of the armed forces, restricts service of inductees to 18 months and permits the President to reinstate inductions after Oct. 15, if necessary.

Prior to the roll call vote—the only one recording how a member voted on any of the questions faced during consideration of the measure—a motion to recommit the legislation to committee was rejected by a shouting house.

The senate military committee has approved a measure to extend the draft a year beyond May 15, without any draft "holiday."

The house debated the bill Friday and Saturday.

There were no roll call votes, on which the members are recorded individually, when the bill was put in shape for final approval today.

No one asked for a roll call on banning the induction of 19 and 19 year olds, and fewer than 50 members demanded a record vote on the amendment halting all inductions between May 15 and Oct. 15. With more than 300 members on the floor, 81 requests were necessary before the roll call could be called.

Up to Committee

The actual form of the extension undoubtedly will be decided by a senate-house conference committee. In this connection, Rep. Sparkman (Ala), house Democratic whip and a member of the chamber's military committee, said that should the senate follow the house pattern "it would be better for the President to veto it than sign it into law."

The sudden desire for a roll call vote on final passage in the house was interpreted by many members as indicating a general desire to get "on the record" in favor of extending the draft law until next Feb. 15. It now is due to expire May 15.

POWER CO. ASKS OK ON REORGANIZATION

Marion-Reserve Involved in OPS Application.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—The Ohio Public Service Co. asked the Ohio utilities commission today for authority to reorganize its capital structure, as consolidated with those of the Ohio River Power Co., Inc., and the Marion-Reserve Power Co., of Marion, through a competitive offering of new bonds and preferred stocks.

The company said the action was designed to integrate its properties in line with securities and exchange commission policies.

The petition said the company planned to offer $32,000,000 in first mortgage bonds maturing in 1976 and bearing interest of not more than 3 per cent; $5,500,000 in serial notes due from 1947 to 1976; and 156,000 shares of $100 par preferred stock with a dividend rate of not more than 4 per cent.

The reorganization involves sale to the Cities Service Power and Light Co., the parent holding company, of 1,000,000 shares of $5 par common; issuance by Ohio Public Service of 31,000 shares of $5 par common to Cities Service in exchange for 2,033 shares of first preferred; 1,500,500 shares of $5 par common in conversion of 78,825 shares of $100 par common now owned by Cities Service.

Ohio Public Service and Marion-Reserve also are to execute their joint mortgage to secure the $32,000,000 bond issue, and Marion-Reserve and Ohio River Power are to liquidate and transfer their properties to Ohio Public Service.

The utilities commission set April 25 as hearing date.

Weddings

Announcement is being made here of the marriage of Miss Minnie Dell Kinnett of Lebanon, Mo., to Robert C. Moore of this city. The double ring ceremony was read Tuesday, April 2, at 6 o'clock in the evening in the First Christian church in Lebanon by Rev. Nathan Copeland. Only the immediate family and close friends attended the wedding.

The bride chose for her wedding a dress of blue crepe with which she contrasted black accessories. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and her flowers were a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Carter Wrinkle, cousin of the bride, as matron of honor, was attired in an ensemble of whites gabardine with blue accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Moore of 198 Olney avenue, was Lt. Bill McGinnis, stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.

Following the ceremony a reception and dinner was held at the Nelson hotel. The table was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake, decorated with sweet peas. After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 198 Olney avenue.

Mrs. Moore, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Kinnett of Lebanon, is a graduate of Lebanon High school. She has been employed as a secretary in that city. Mr. Moore was recently discharged from service as a lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for more than a year and served 18 months overseas in the South Pacific area.

After a trip to Niagara Falls, they planned to visit Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo East of 652 East Center street before leaving for San Francisco, Calif., to make their home. The bridegroom was discharged recently from the Navy, and before entering service, made his home with Mr. and Mrs. East, his uncle and aunt, here. He was an employe of the Baker Wood Preserving Co. when he lived here.

Mackenzie Probes at Meat of Feud Among Big Three

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Today we enter a new phase of the conflict of viewpoints between Russia, on the one hand, and Britain and the United States, on the other—differences which in their essence arise from the Soviet Union's already well advanced program for a mighty expansion of its spheres of influence.

The question isn't whether Russia should readjust her spheres, since the other Allies have conceded a major realignment. But there's a growing feeling among statesmen of England and America that Moscow's plans go much further than is required in the interest of Russian security and wellbeing.

Dewitt Mackenzie

In short, John Bull and Uncle Sam pause for consideration before taking a hand in building a colossus which would stand astride the whole world.

Getting down to cases, the United Nations security council has two troublesome problems on hand this week—the Russo-Iranian affair and the Polish demand for action against Spain's Generalissimo Franco. They are stormy enough but they are April showers compared with the hurricane which might develop in the coming meeting of the foreign ministers of the Big Four—Russia, Britain, France and America—which is due to assemble in Paris on the 25th of this month to try to figure out the terms of the European peace treaties.

Basis of Argument

First on the agenda of the security council is the Iranian matter, which grew out of the presence of Russian troops in that small country pending an adjustment of relations between the two nations. Now that an agreement has been reached and the Muscovites have promised to withdraw all forces by May 6, the Soviet demands that the council drop the subject. The United States and Britain, however, insist that the subject be kept on the agenda until May 6, not because of distrust but to discharge an obligation.

The Franco case also involves Soviet influence, but in a different way. Russia and France long have insisted that the generalissimo's government is a menace to international peace and have urged action to oust him. Now Poland, which moves in Moscow's orbit, has called on the UN to break with Madrid.

The United States, while disapproving of the Spanish regime, takes the view that it doesn't endanger peace. London not only subscribes to that but believes that outside interference might precipitate another civil war in Spain and result in the establishment of a Soviet government that would strengthen Moscow's influence in western Europe.

Much Is Involved

As for the coming foreign minister's conference, the mere statement that its primary business is to prepare the peace treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland doesn't sound threatening. However, these pacts are heavily involved in the realignment of the zones of influence not only on the European continent but in the Mediterranean, the Middle East and on into the Far East.

The Italian treaty is the most formidable, for it is strongly related to Russia's aim to establish herself at last as a power in the Mediterranean which England for generations has dominated. Now Russia suddenly challenges this position.

Long Delay in Senate Seen for Labor Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—The senate received its labor committee's mild substitute for the house-passed Case strike control bill today, but prospects are remote that it will get action for weeks or months.

Leaders have put it behind such measures as the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain, OPA extension legislation and various appropriations measures which should be cleared before the fiscal year's end on June 30.

You can get bets, in fact, that there will be no action until after a summer recess and probably not until after the November elections.

For the second time in a week fire today broke out among the household goods belonging to Roger Powell of Marion. Their sentence will be completed today.

Firemen from Central who were called at 9 a. m. today assigned the same cause, a cigaret or match dropped by a passerby. The same mattress which was partially burned April 10 was set afire again today. Firemen said there was only slight damage.

THESE ARE THE BENEFACTORS
★ One of the greatest accomplishments of civilization has been the remarkable progress made in increasing the average life expectancy. In the Middle Ages the average life span was twenty years. In the seventeenth century it had advanced to twenty-five years. Through the years there has been a steady increase until, today, the life expectancy is sixty-three years for men and sixty-six for women.
Authorities agree that the most productive years of life lie between the ages of forty and sixty. Medicine and the allied sciences have thus been indirectly responsible for all progress. Good minds that had sickened and died before reaching their zenith now live to apply the judgment and experience of maturity. As pharmacists, we are proud of our function in the distribution of lifesaving medical supplies.

Programs on the Air

Television broadcasting, discontinued to change to new channels under the 1945 reallocations, has been rather slow in getting under full way again. Delay in obtaining necessary equipment was given as a reason. Another factor has been time required to change over several thousand home receivers.

In New York, first to get back on the air will be Dumont's WABD, after a shutdown since December. It is reopening tonight with an ambitious program, to include first use of a new department store studio (Wanamaker's) and a coaxial cable relay from Washington.

NBC's WNBT and CBS' WCBW have been closed since the first of March. WNBT had intended to start around April 1, but now says it will be May or later. WCBW twice has postponed its resumption.

Coming up tonight: NBC 9 Fritz Kreisler concert violinist in a return appearance in the Don Voorhees concert, playing five of his own compositions. This broadcast also marks the close of the sixth year for the series.

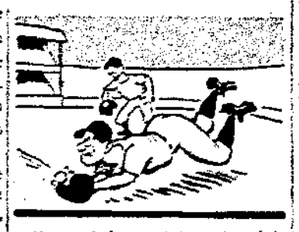
Major League Bosses Pick Favorites with Openers Due Tomorrow

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, April 15—Six American league managers think their clubs have a chance to win the flag, but National league pilots are in unanimous agreement that the star-studded St. Louis Cardinals is "the team to beat," according to their pre-opening day comments for The Associated Press. .

Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves, and former Redbird skipper, flatly predicted the Cardinals would win the National league pennant. St. Louis' Eddie Dyer says his team will have a good chance to win. Even Connie Mack, Manager of the Philadelphia Athletics in the American league, picked the Cards to cop the bunting.



None of the sextet ventured to name his team as the Number One outfit, but neither did they yield an inch to other clubs. Perhaps the most enthusiastic statements were made by O'Neill of the world champion Tigers and Sewell of the 1944 pennant winning Browns.

O'Neill Confident

"As defending champions we certainly must rate as the team to beat in the American league," O'Neill said. "We have good pitching, good catching, a strong outfield and the infield will be okay. We expect the greatest competition from New York, Boston and Cleveland, with Washington as the dark horse."

Said Sewell: "Our club this year is 40 per cent better than our '44 champions and is the best team I have had since I took charge in 1941. I'm satisfied the Browns will be in the battle for the pennant."

All agreed the 1946 season will be one of the most interesting in the history of the game, chiefly because of pre-war stars who are expected to strengthen practically every club.

What They Say

Comments from other managers included:

Eddie Dyer, St. Louis Cardinals—"We have a strong team and should be in the thick of the race. How great we are to become depends chiefly on our catching, Johnny Beazley's arm and George Kurowski, who got a late training start. I will say that if we are no more than five games from first place by July 4, we will have a good chance to win.

Charlie Grimm, Chicago Cubs—"We'll be right in there again, but we'll have to pitch all the way. From what I hear every club has been strengthened and we'll have to fear Brooklyn, Boston and even the Phils almost as much as the Cardinals.

Leo Durocher, Brooklyn Dodgers—"It's going to be a close race. I expect the Cubs and my own team to give the Cards a run for their money."

Mel Ott, New York Giants—"We are definitely aiming for first division and expect to land there. Walker Cooper should make a tremendous difference in the team. We have a hard hitting outfield and with a little more infield material and a left-handed pitcher, we should give any team trouble."

Frank Frisch, Pirates—"I think the Pirates will be stronger than they were last season when they just managed to finish in the first division. Our club is in fine condition and I am pleased with recruits Ralph Kiner in centerfield and Billy Cox at short."

Billy Southworth, Boston Braves—"My club will be a hustling club. As far as speed, it will compare with others in the league. With a little help which we're trying to get, we'll be able to give the majority of the clubs a battle. The Cubs should provide the Cards the best battle."

Bill McKechnie, Cincinnati Reds: "Give me a couple of outfielders who can sock the ball and we'll deal them all plenty of trouble. We're going to be a lot better than a good many people think we are."

Ben Chapman, Philadelphia Phils: "We definitely won't finish in last place and may even hit the first division if my infield holds up. I rate the Cubs, Dodgers and Giants next to the Cards."

American League Talk

Ossie Bluege, Washington Senators: "We're making no comment to anybody. We've got enough power at the plate for a change and we'll be in the race if our pitching is as good as it looks on paper."

Joe McCarthy, New York Yankees—"The team will be just about the same as the 1941-43 championship outfit with the exception of the pitching staff. If some of the young hurlers come through we may go to win."

Lou Boudreau, Cleveland Indians—"We're shooting for the pennant and we will have a hustling team that'll give all clubs a fight. We've got pitching with Bob Feller, Al Reynolds, Steve Gromek, Red Embree and Don Black. The infield is sound and the outfield is speedy. George Case should prove a big help to our team."

Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox—"With all the veterans back every club will be better. I figure all will be closely bunched. It will be hard to make a prediction until about the end of June."

Mule Haas, Chicago White Sox (acting manager)—"We're definitely better than last year, but so are most of the other clubs. It will be foolish for me to predict the White Sox will finish better than last season when we wound up sixth."

Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletics—"I don't know where we'll finish but we're much improved." The grand old man of the game repeated his early spring training prediction that the Yankees and Cards will meet in the World Series.

Marion Cardinals Arrive Home with 12 on Roster; Tryout School Set

Four from 1945 Team Back; Local Hurler Makes Good

By JIM DARBY

Twelve players, nucleus of the 1946 Marion Cardinals, were brought into town yesterday by Manager Wally Shang. Among them is Joe Carl Roseberry of 272 Patterson street, one of four pitchers. The rest of the club will be selected after a tryout school here and from contributions from the parent St. Louis Cardinal setup.

Three other Marion players who made the trip to the Albany, Ga. training camp were released. They are: Charles Wynn Jr. of 160 West Center street, Leo L. Harvey of 850 South Prospect street and Jack V. Higgins of 677 Bennett street.

Four of the 1945 Cardinal crew are returning for this year's campaign. They are:

William E. Seyfried, 20, of Richmond Heights, Mo., a pitcher who bats and throws right, stands 6 feet and weighs 184. He stood 22nd among Ohio State league pitchers last year, winning three, losing 11 for a percentage of .214. His earned run average was 4.41.

Leo Perine, 23, of Detroit, an outfielder who throws right and is a switch hitter. He is 5 feet 8½ inches tall and weighs 160. Last year he hit .248 in 302 trips to the plate in 82 games.

Robert D. Dix, 19, of Beckley, W. Va., and outfielder who throws right, bats left, is 5 feet 8½ inches tall, weighs 155. He hit .243 in 181 times at bat in 54 games last year.

Charles H. Frey, 18, of St. Louis, an outfielder who throws right, bats left, stands 5 feet 7½, weighs 149. He played in less then 10 games last year and no averages are available.

Rest of Roster

Other players signed are, catchers: James Lilly, 21, of Beckley, W. Va., who throws and bats right, is 6 feet 1, weighs 192; Vernon F. Rapp, 18, of St. Louis who throws and bats right, is 5 feet 11, weighs 165.

Judge W. Dexter Hazen, Cardinal president, said Marion had walked off with the best two catchers in the camp in these two players.

The two additional pitchers are: David S. Molloy, 22, of Providence, R. I., who throws and bats right, is 6 feet 2, weighs 190; Joe Pusateri, 16, of Festus, Mo., who throws and bats right, is 5 feet 10, weighs 150.

At first base the Cardinals have signed Angelo Veneri, 19, of Detroit, who bats and throws left, is 6 feet 1, weighs 190. At short is Raymond Haley, 17, of Springfield, Mo., who throws and bats right, is 5 feet 11, weighs 170.

The Cardinals have signed for the outfield Melvin Wiebel, 23, of Lowden, Ia., who bats left, throws right, is 5 feet 8, weighs 160. He came into the camp a free agent and played excellent ball, Judge Hazen reports.

Try-Out School Set

From now until opening day April 30, the local club will hold a tryout school at Lincoln park. Second base and the hot corner are still wide open. Since all outfielders now signed are left-handed batters, a couple of good righthanded hitters are sought.

The remainder of the team will be selected from players reporting to the tryout school from other clubs, deals arranged independently and with the help of the St. Louis Cardinals and from among players trying out as free agents. Anyone who wishes to tryout for a berth on the team may report to Wally Schang.

The team which will take the field will be presented at the baseball banquet at Masonic Temple, April 29. The banquet is sponsored by the inter-club council and will try to schedule baseball "big names" as guest speakers.

Also released at Albany were Frank Gonglos and Thomas Montooth, who were tentatively signed.

Three sales of Marion players were made during the training period. Infielder Nicholas C. Stifano was sold to Salisbury, Maryland, and third sacker Frederick J. Sudol and first baseman George R. Hosp were sold to Carthage, Mo.

Cards Come Through

Judge Hazen said St. Louis Cardinal officials lived up to their promise to give Marion some good ball players. Of the nine clubs at camp, he said, only Marion was not owned outright by the St. Louis outfit. However, Marion was given a better than even break when it came time to assign players.

Dick Pace, former Marion pitcher, now stationed at the Charleston, S. C., naval base, made a 350-mile trip to visit his old teammates. .

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 15—All this spring you've been hearing that baseball is back where it was before the war. If that's true, you could pick this year's finish in the majors by referring to the books for the 1941 standing: American league — New York, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Washington, Philadelphia; National — Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia... Actually, it isn't true ...Another Yankee-Dodger series is possible, of course, but most of the experts figure it will be the Cards in National league. They were just coming up during that last pre-war season and hit their peak the next year...But even allowing for that switch there's no guarantee that the clubs will finish as expected. This may be the most uncertain of all baseball seasons.

Time Marches Dept.

Even with the return of former service men—and all but about 100 of the 600 or so who donned Uncle Sam's uniforms are back — you have plenty of wartime changes to consider....For instance, you can get a dozen different opinions as to how the ex-GI's will get along and probably all of them are right. Some undoubtedly slipped back during their service, due to age, injuries or living under different conditions; some youngsters improved while playing in the Army or Navy; there'll be some slow starters who'll regain their timing and speed as the season progresses and others who'll start fast then weaken under the hot mid summer sun....There are newcomers, who looked like real major leaguers during the wartime seasons. Will they look the same now that the real major leaguers are back?

New Faces in Old Places

Since 1941 no fewer than five major league clubs have come under new ownership—the Yankees, Dodgers, Phillies, Braves and Browns. And for the Phils and Braves, at least, that means a real effort to build up...Both those clubs have acquired new managers in that time as have the Cardinals, Cubs, Tigers and Senators. All those guys will be expected to show they can hold their own in normal times... In addition, Frank Frisch, Mel Ott, Joe Cronin and Jimmy Dykes may feel the edge of the fans' wrath unless they produce some winners, though they're in pretty solid with the club owners. And there's Joe McCarthy and Bill McKechnie, both reported on the verge of quitting last year... What's the use of making forecasts this year? Anything can and probably will happen except a sudden loss of interest by the fans.

First Presidential Southpaw

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15 — President Truman and the national capital join hands tomorrow with baseball fans across the country to usher in the 1946 season.

Mr. Truman will take a southpaw stance in the presidential box between home plate and first base shortly before 3 p. m. and throw out the first ball before an expected crowd of 30,000.

By formally opening what sports writers predict will be a record smashing season—the first since wartime—Mr. Truman will keep alive a tradition of every President attending opening-day baseball since shortly after the turn of the century.

Mr. Truman personally will set a couple of records—(1) as the first Presidential southpaw; (2) by taking a party of 32 to see the game.

Cards and Yankees Picked in AP Poll

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—The St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees should meet in the 1946 World Series according to the way the nation's baseball writers size up the major league pennant races.

Of the 119 writers participating in the annual Associated Press poll on the flag chases, 115 picked the Cards to win the National league championship while four named the Chicago Cubs to repeat.

The Yanks were selected to win the American league race by 76 of the writers while 25 believed Detroit would cop the flag again. Sixteen looked for Boston's belting Sox to come through and two picked the Cleveland Indians.

Nats Really at Home in Griffith Stadium

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Griffith Stadium is the home of the Washington Senators in more ways than one today.

Ten of the players, caught in the capital's jam-packed housing shortage, have found no place to live so sleeping quarters were improvised in stadium dressing rooms.

Sports pages asked baseball fans for help with such pleas as:

"If you possess an extra tent, igloo or lean-to, kindly get in touch with President Clark Griffith of the Washington Baseball club."

FELLER HOPES HISTORY WILL REPEAT TOMORROW

Six Years Ago He Tossed No-Hitter In Opener.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15 — If baseball history repeats itself in six-year cycles it will be quite all right with Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' ace who will take the mound against the White Sox in Chicago tomorrow in the opening game of the 1946 American league season.

Rapid Robert hopes to celebrate the sixth anniversary of a record pitching feat with a repeat performance of his no-hit shutout of the Chisox in 1940.

The same site—Comiskey park—and some familiar faces will greet Feller tomorrow as he attempts to duplicate that 1 to 0 opening-day whitewashing.

Manager Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack, the Indians' clever keystone combination, played with the Tribe in 1940 as Feller set a new American league record, but Hal Trosky, ex-Indian first baseman will be on the Chicago side of the diamond tomorrow.

The Indians ended their exhibition season with a 14-14 record yesterday as the New York Giants teed off for six runs in the final two innings to take a 7 to 5 triumph.

WANTS BASEBALL GAMES

The Norwalk V. F. W. baseball team wants to book home games for Sundays and Thursdays with teams in this vicinity. Local team managers interested in scheduling night games at Norwalk should write Carl J. Keller, 86 Milan avenue, Norwalk. Milan would like some estimate of the strength and previous record of teams.

Hayworth Signs Up With Mexican Loop

By The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, April 15—Myron (Red) Hayworth, former St. Louis Brown catcher, is the latest U. S. player to sign with the Mexican league.

The husky, 31-year-old receiver, who was sent down to Toledo of the American Association this year after playing with the Browns the last two seasons, signed a three-year contract with Mexican League President Jorge Pasquel last night. Pasquel said Hayworth will be assigned to the Torreon team.

Four New Champions in Women's Pin Tourney

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 15—Four new champions held Ohio women's kegling titles today following completion of the 21st annual State Women's Bowling tournament here over the weekend.

The champs: Team—Helm Florists of Columbus, 2,908; Doubles—Janet Dunnick and Maude Kirkpatrick of Columbus, 1,254; Singles—Dorothy McGunigal of Girard, 697; All Events—Catherine Burling of Cincinnati, 1,707.

DAYTON, O.—Steve Nagy and Joe Bodis of Cleveland hit a 1,373 total to grab off the doubles championship in the wind up of the Ohio State Bowling tournament here last night.

Nagy's 733-pin performance in the doubles also boosted him into the all events title with a 2,038 aggregate. Other champions: Team—Felfenbrau Beers of Dayton, 2,982; Singles—Parker Mattison of Toledo, 726.

REDS TO KEEP UP OLD TRADITION IN OPENER

To Start at Home, as Usual; Cubs Are Foes.

CINCINNATI, April 15—The Cincinnati Reds add another chapter to a baseball tradition dating back 70 years here tomorrow as they meet the Chicago Cubs in the National league inaugural.

Cincinnati has opened at home since birth of the National league in 1876, with but one exception—the very next year when rain made the local field a quagmire and the hometown club took an Ohio river boat to Louisville to open the season in the Blue Grass state.

Cincinnati was a member of the American Association from 1882 to 1890.

The crowd of 30,000 expected to jam Crosley field tomorrow for the first showing of the 1946 Reds will be a far cry from the 2,000 gathering or the opener back in 1876. That first turnout in the handlebar mustache days saw Cincinnati's Cherokee Fisher outpitch George Washington Bradley to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 2-1.

BISONS WIN CALDER CUP

By The Associated Press

Y., April 15—The American Hockey league Calder Cup was back in the possession of the Buffalo Bisons today following the team's 5-2 triumph over Cleveland's Barons in the seventh game of a hard-fought play-off series. # MEAT set, but OPA said "appropriate operating orders will be announced within the next few days."

The impending order will be the OPA's third in the last few weeks designed to curb black market meat sales. Previous regulations restored wartime controls on so-called custom slaughtering and provided for reduction of subsidies in cases where packers violate ceiling prices.

The new program will restore a livestock channeling system which was withdrawn last September.

Same As 1944

OPA said it will provide "each legitimate slaughterer with an opportunity to slaughter the same proportion of the available supply of cattle, calves and hogs as he slaughtered in 1944."

Commenting on the new program, Price Administrator Paul A. Porter said:

"The answer to equitable distribution of meat supplies is not the abandonment of price control, as suggested by some. We are not going to ask the American people to pay tribute to a legalized black market.

"The real answer lies in a system of controls at the source of supply which will give established slaughterers more nearly their customary volume of livestock and provide for better distribution of meat supplies at ceiling prices to retail stores."

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson termed the quota plan "in reality a share-the-livestock program."

He stressed that no restrictions will be placed on total production of meat, but the purpose will be "to get meat operations back into normal channels."

Anderson said some packers have had difficulty getting normal supplies of livestock at ceiling prices.

Will Be Higher

OPA said slaughter percentages fixed under the new order will be higher than those used last year "because more meat is now available for civilian consumption."

The agency said that since last September, many slaughterers have been killing several times their normal proportion of available livestock, with the result that others found it difficult to obtain more than 50 to 60 per cent of their proportion.

OPA officials, while contending the extent of the black market in meat "has been exaggerated," said the new program is designed "to check whatever black market does exist."

Anticipating the new quota program the American Meat Institute said yesterday that the slaughter controls "may only serve further to promote the black market which is entirely out of hand despite regulations."

Attorney General Tom Clark stepped in to the black market campaign by directing the FBI to go after the reported subsidy frauds.

"Complaints have been received," Clark said in a statement, "that some packers are paying black market prices for live cattle, thus making it impossible for other packers to secure cattle lawfully, and then are obtaining subsidy help from the government by representing that purchases were made at legally permissable prices."

A justice department official who cannot be named said the subsidy regulations provide that a slaughterer who bids up the price of cattle beyond the permissable maximum forfeits his rights to subsidy help from the government.

"To falsify reports of the prices paid, and to claim subsidies on the basis of such false information, constitutes a fraud on the United States," He said.

The official said the maximum permissible prices for live cattle are fixed at a level designed to permit packers with the help of subsidies, to slaughter and sell dressed beef within their legal ceiling prices.

To discourage competing packers from bidding up these prices to a point where they would have to overcharge their customers or suffer a loss, the subsidy regulations now provide that packers who pay more than allowed by regulations automatically forfeit a part or all of the subsidy, depending on the excess amount paid, the official explained.

Shortage Threatens Gland Medicines

WASHINGTON, April 15 — G. L. Childress, general manager of the Houston Packing Co., testified today that national supplies of gland extracts vital to medicine manufacture are threatened by the meat black market.

Childress urged before the senate agriculture committee that all meat subsidies and price controls be abandoned, predicting "the going legitimate prices of meat would never reach the present black market levels."

In a statement prepared for the committee the Texan presented letters from pharmaceutical firms which contended that meat by-products are wasted by black market slaughterers. Five large concerns, Childress said, have been compelled to reduce production of glandular extracts "as a direct result of the diversion of livestock into the black market."

Birthday Greetings Exchanged from Marion and Tokyo

T-5 D. Maynard Snyder and his wife, Mrs. Isaiah Snyder of 118 Reed avenue, have birthdays one day apart. But Saturday at 11 p. m. each wished the other "Happy Birthday" on the other's anniversary.

Distance, the international dateline and a trans-Pacific telephone call collaborated to cause this apparent violation of the laws of space and time.

Mrs. Snyder received the call from her husband, now stationed with the 1698th Eng. near Tokyo, Japan, at 11 p. m. Saturday, April 13, his 31st birthday. But in Japan it was 1 p. m. Sunday, April 14, her 28th birthday. They exchanged mutual congratulations and each was correct.

Their two daughters Marjorie Jean, 4, and Nancy Ann, 2, joined in the celebration by singing "Happy Birthday" to their father.

Mrs. Snyder received word from the San Francisco operator that Tokyo was calling at 10:45 p. m. and 20 minutes later heard her husband's voice. Neither Mrs. Snyder nor her husband knew today what the cost of the call would be. The conversation was limited to five minutes.

Snyder, who before entering service was employed by the Marion Power Shovel Co., has been in the Army one year and overseas since October. He was home on an embarkation furlough of 15 days just before sailing.

BATTLE RAGES FOR MANCHURIAN CITY

By The Associated Press

CHANG'CHUN, Manchuria, April 15—A battle for Changchung was under way today between Chinese government and Communist forces.

The Communists launched an attack yesterday two hours before the final withdrawal of Soviet occupation forces from this Manchurian capital.

The Communists already had gained control of all three airfields in this vicinity and sifted into the city from the suburbs.

Gunfire has been constant for the past ten hours.

The Communists were making determined attacks from the north, northwest, and south. They began shortly before Russian Maj. Gen. Fedor Kanlov left aboard his two-car, two-locomotive special train for Harbin.

By 10:30 o'clock last night the Communists had captured the main northwest airfield, cutting off aerial supplies for the small Chinese government garrison.

The Measure of Value in Funeral Service
The measure of value in funeral service is the memory that you can retain in future years . . . for those memories will linger long after the casket or the cost is forgotten.
Many families in Marion and its suburban communities today have cherished memories because they called this organization to serve them. One reason they have those memories is the amount of personal effort and painstaking care accorded to each service.
It costs no more to have this kind of satisfaction. You can readily verify that by consulting any family we have served.

TRUSTEES' CLERKS MEET AT SCHOOL

Dinner Features First Quarterly Session of Group.

The first quarterly meeting of the Marion County Township Trustees and Clerks Association was held Saturday evening, April 13th, in the Prospect Centralized School. This meeting was sponsored by the Townships of Prospect, Waldo, Green Camp, Pleasant and Marion.

A supper, at 8 p. m. was served by the Loyal Workers class of the Prospect M. E. church to about 100 officials, wives and guests.

Paul H. Naver, of Pleasant township, president of the local association, presided for the business session.

R. F. Oswald of the state auditor's office, who is currently making a check of township records in this county was a guest and gave a short talk on the handling of township business after which he answered questions from the floor.

State President Joe R. Thomas of Hayesville, was guest speaker and his subject was "The Trend of Man." Mr. Thomas said that the modern man wants to work less and earn more, and that the farmer was no exception. He also pointed out that, with increased facilities, the farmer is cultivating more acres than can be properly cared for which is seriously deteriorating the fertility of the soil. Mr. Thomas declared that "the church and the school are the foundation of America", and warned that Americans must stay close to both, lest we fail.

Earl E. Thomas, county representative, gave a few remarks on financial matters and explained the distribution of the state sales tax to villages and townships.

The next meeting will be in June under the sponsorship of Tully, Scott, Grand Prairie, Claridon and Richland townships.

GENERAL DROPS HIT VARIETY OF STOCKS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15 — Steels, motors and selected industrials declined fractions to around 2 points in today's market although a few scattered favorites managed to resist the general trend.

A majority of the utilities, aircrafts, metals and rails also had minus signs attached.

The soft coal strike now entering its third week was a factor in the retreat inasmuch as it will eventually curb the output of a number of basic manufacturing industries.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Douglas, American Airlines, Western Union "A," American Water Works, American Smelting, Anaconda and DuPont.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

RODERICK must not suspect my secret!

That was my first thought as I opened the door and saw him standing there in his uniform. He looked so big and strong and handsome and—and everything a man should be, didn't he?

Hasn't Had Time

"I haven't had time to do any heavy thinking on the subject," I told him. "But my answer—you've got it!"

"Darling!" He caught me to him, and it didn't seem awkward and silly at all somehow. He said, "But I'm a darned lucky fellow to have found you. I'm nearly mad with happiness."

"What nonsense!" I laughed. I moved quickly out of his arms. "Come in. I'll get my hat off and we can talk."

"Why, but you don't have to go anywhere," he protested.

"I must. I promised Aunt Katharine I'd be back in time to help her dress for dinner. She's very much excited about meeting you."

"Oh, Lord!" he groaned. "I'm not very good at that sort of thing."

"Nonsense! You'll be fine. Besides, I want you to. I'm so proud of you, Roderick, and I want everyone to know you're mine."

"Mine!" Roderick echoed, repeating it softly. "You know I'd love to help her—"

"Of course I know, dear boy," I said affectionately and impressively — for I know his boyish adoration of his uncle. "Come back here as soon as you can, for I want to see Junior and get over that the business as soon as possible."

"I won't let my feet touch the ground," he promised extravagantly, and indeed he was back in such an incredibly short time that I guessed Darcy had made his duties light.

"Now I'll hurry old Jun over," he said, and departed.

It was just three minutes before the knocker sounded again, and, aggrieved and flustered, Junior came in, clutching his best ties in his hand.

"What's all this about my tie?" he asked a bit belligerently. "Rod said you wanted me to change it. And just when I've got it tied perfectly, too."

Former Queen At OWU, Polio Victim, To Fly to Hospital

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15—Arrival of an Army Air Forces plane was awaited today by Mrs. Eleanor Hunt, former college beauty queen suffering from polio, to take her to California for an operation.

An Air Transport Command plane containing a respirator and manned by an Army surgeon and technician, will land here by midnight the next few days for the trip to Hollywood Presbyterian hospital.

Mrs. Hunt, the former Miss Ohio University, was stricken with infantile paralysis 15 months ago, and is paralyzed from the neck down.

Her husband, Sergeant Hunt, said the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Red Cross, by appealing to Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of the A.A.F., made the arrangements for the trip.

Vets Now Eligible For Correspondence Study

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Veterans eligible for educational benefits now may take correspondence and extension courses by mail.

The Veterans Administration announced today it has signed contracts with 28 educational institutions, including Ohio university, to furnish mail courses ranging from academic subjects to a wide variety of trades and professions.

The original GI Bill of Rights ruled out correspondence courses by requiring attendance at a school or other training institution, but this was changed last December to authorize study by mail.

A veteran will receive no subsistence allowance, and the total cost of the courses he takes must not exceed $500.

Lady Nearly Choked While Lying in Bed— Due to Stomach Gas

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by all drug stores here in Marion.—Adv.

SCHOOL GRADE SYSTEM TO BE STUDIED TONIGHT

County Committee To Meet With Morral Superintendent.

Recommendations for a revision in the system of grading in Marion county schools will be presented to school superintendents at a meeting tonight in the home of Dale Porter, superintendent of Morral schools.

The revised grading system, discussed at recent meeting of the educational committee, would better define what a grade stands for, school officials believe, and would better interpret a student's progress for his parents and community. County Superintendent C. P. Mills said the new system also would help to promote a uniform understanding of the meaning of grades, so that a grade in the school would mean the same as in another.

Members of the educational committee include Mr. Mills and the following: Rock school, Superintendent C. E. Bennett of Pleasant; Orin Mogilone of Caledonia; Virgil Bright of Prospect; Elmer Bevers of Waldo; Arthur Long of Marion; Paul Kuhlman of Scott and Orrin Hoy of Green Camp.

GOOD JOB— but what about MONEY?

A LOT OF THINGS go to make a good job. Interesting work, vacations, the people you work with. But the big consideration is money. Take-home pay — savings — provision for the future. Those are the things that count.

Compare the average job with a job in the Army.

Suppose you make $200 a month, when you're working. After all the deductions have been taken out — and after paying for rent, groceries, clothes and doctors' bills — how much have you left?

Army pay starts at $50 a month for a Private. But a big proportion of men in the new peacetime Army are specialists, with higher grades and pay. Suppose you're a Technical Sergeant, making $114 a month base pay. You get your food, clothing, housing and medical and dental care free. Insurance, amusements and incidentals cost you far less. And if you enlist before July 1, 1946, you get a family allowance for your dependents. You'll have money to save!

With a yearly 30-day furlough with pay, you work eleven months and get paid for twelve. You get the best technical training in valuable trades and skills. Chances for advancement are excellent. On a 3-year enlistment you can choose your branch of service and overseas theater — and overseas service pays you 20% extra! If you enlist before October 6, 1946, upon discharge, you'll have the privileges of the GI Bill of Rights.

The educational privileges alone after a 3-year enlistment are worth more than $5000 (48 months of college, trade or business school — free!). Where else could a young man save that much in 3 years?

Most important of all, after 20 years' service you can retire at half pay for the rest of your life — or on up to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. To get that kind of retirement security in civilian life you'd have to buy an annuity costing you $84 a month!

If you are aged 18 to 34, inclusive (17 with parents' consent), and physically and mentally fit, you can enlist now in the U.S. Regular Army for 1½, 2 or 3 years for one of the world's best jobs. Without obligation, get full details at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

GI JOBLSS COSTS CLIMB 77 PER CENT

By The Associated Press

...LUMBUS, O., April 15—...employment benefits last ...ared to a record $13,218,-... payments to jobless vet... der provisions of the GI ...reasing 77 per cent over ... BUC Administrator ... H. Jones reported today. ...crease in total payments ...oth the GI bill and the ...Unemployment Compensation act approximated 20 per cent, Jones said.

Returned servicemen unable to find employment in March received $6,244,000, compared with $3,494,000 the previous month.

Payments to non-service personnel under the state law totaled $6,974,000 in March, a decrease of 8 per cent from February.

Jones said the increase in servicemen's readjustment allowances indicated that such payments soon would exceed thoses to non-service personnel.

Jobless servicemen, able to work and available for suitable employment, are eligible for $20 weekly under GI bill provisions, Jones explained. He added that payments could continue for 52 weeks, depending on veterans' length of war service.

It is vital that every American guard his family and himself by giving to fight cancer.

Boyle Rates Naples "Sad Sack City" of World

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NAPLES—Naples is still the world's civil "sad sack."

If the world's metropolises were rated on the stock market, Naples would be selling at zero. It is even disowned by the northern Italians who always speak of it as "Italy's shame," of the "cesspool of Italy."

Hal Boyle

Some refuse to admit that Naples is in Italy at all, and there is an old saying that "Africa begins 20 miles south of Rome."

Mussolini could not clean up the Neapolitans or cure them of their lifelong cynicism and happy go lucky aptitude for depravity. Naples is just a throwback to Paris in the days of Francois Villon—city that never quite grew out of the middle ages.

It is a place where most people prefer to do nothing for themselves, if they think they can get anyone else to do it for them. It is a place where thousands would rather work all day selling fake cameos than they would spend 15 minutes washing an honest window. It is the home grounds for all the confidence rackets ever spawned.

High Class Town

In a half hour's walk through its streets you can meet more thieves, liars, racketeers, chiselers, cutthroats, gamblers, ingenious beggars and short change artists—all fairly happy, hungry and good-natured—than any place.

I guess that's why I like Naples so well. You meet more interesting people there than anywhere except in jail. Naples is Sing Sing without walls.

There is a legend that a committee once set out to find and reward an honest Neapolitan. After months of search the committee finally located a decrepit old man, who seemed to fill the bill. When told the nature of the reward being proffered him, he became very indignant.

"You mistake me for a Neapolitan!" he roared. "I am a visitor from Padua."

When the American Army first entered Naples in October 1943 the streets were ankle deep in filth and the people wretched. The streets are cleaner now, but the people remain wretched. They likely will remain so unless they change their philosophy of life, or cease trying to outbreed the insect world. War cannot be blamed for all their troubles.

Sickness Is Deep

The streets have been repaired, most of the debris piles have been removed, but it will take more than a superficial face lifting to restore Naples' wrinkled, unrepentant heart.

Poverty is widespread and truly predatory. Children are born to parents whose views were twisted from birth. There is much deep family love but little civil responsibility, less civic pride.

Neapolitans take to the black market like a tomcat to a stranded fish. If there were six people left in Naples and food enough for 20, two would corner the supply and sell it on the black market to the other four. And after a while one black market operator would find his partner was stealing from him.

Naples needs food. There is no doubt a large part of its population lives always on the edge of starvation. But as much as food it needs a new Hercules to clean this stable of Italy.

3 JUDGES PROBE MURDER
By The Associated Press

IRONTON, O., April 15—The first three-judge court in Lawrence county history will convene today for the trial of Chester Duncan, 40, of near Getaway, charged with murder in the fatal shooting of three neighbors last March 10. Duncan elected, under an Ohio statute, a trial by the three judges rather than by jury.

NBC Vice President To Speak at Heidelberg

HARRISON WOOS CIO
By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—Marvin C. Harrison, Cleveland attorney seeking the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, told some 1,000 Ohio CIO Political Action Committee members yesterday that his chief concern is "saving Ohio from Wall Street and helping prevent America from being plunged into a third world war." He said he also favored international atomic control, national fair employment legislation, special housing for veterans, a more powerful UN and higher minimum wage scales.

Now...no wheat used in beer or ale

And wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the world's hungry

Actually wheat has never been a large item in the brewing process—only $\frac{8}{10,000}$ of the entire U. S. wheat crop was used in 1945.

In accordance with United States Government policy, the brewing industry has used no wheat whatever since March 1, 1946.

OTHER MATERIALS CUT 30%

The other grains used have been reduced by 30%—that is, to 70% of the 1945 amount.

Wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the hungry. The grains to which the industry is now restricted, are of a variety and grade not normally consumed by the people of the world as food.

LESS BEER AND ALE

Altogether, the brewing industry is using 30% less materials than in 1945. This results in a proportionately lower production. But since the current demand for beer and ale is about 25% greater than a year ago, the real shortage is nearer 50%

Consequently, your dealer will not be able to supply you with all the beer and ale you would like. We know you will understand the reason for this.

Your attention is earnestly directed to the recommendations of President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, which are summarized in the box below.

This statement tells in clear, simple terms what each of us individually can do to help during the emergency.

What the President's Famine Emergency Committee asks us all to do

1. Save and share wheat and fat products . . . Go light on all foods that take wheat, fats and oils—save breads, macaroni, cakes, cookies, pastries and deep-fried foods. Use drippings for pan-frying. Save salad oil—use boiled dressings.
2. Buy and serve more plentiful foods . . . Balance diets with the more plentiful foods, such as potatoes, fresh fruits and vegetables.
3. Waste NO food . . . Dress up today's leftovers for tomorrow. Make every crust count with melba toast, crumb-toppings, bread puddings and stuffings. Take no more than you can eat. Clean your plate. Turn in unusable fat salvage promptly.

Facial Neuralgia

...t the most merciful service rendered by medical ...ce was its conquest of tic ...lox or facial neuralgia ... of all the ills that flesh ... this can be one of the ...ringly painful.

...requent in persons be... and 60, it causes sudden ... of violent pain in the ... may be so severe that ... scream for relief, and frequent that they are in almost constant torture.

Milder Attacks

In others, the attacks are milder, coming only seldom and lasting but a short time. In either case the attacks may be brought on by a chance touch of the face, or by such movements as are involved in eating or talking.

Tic douloureaux has been known for centuries, though even today its exact cause remains a mystery. Nonetheless, modern medicine has found a way to relieve it. In 1890, an operation for abolishing the fierce pain of this disorder was devised—an operation, which has since been so perfected and refined that it stands as a monument to the skill of modern surgery.

This operation consists in cutting a part of the trigeminal nerve in the face. It is, of course, a highly delicate and skill-requiring operation. Extreme care must be taken to cut only one part of the nerve. Should that part which serves the muscles be severed, parts of the face will be paralyzed and facial muscles waste away.

For these reasons, people with the milder type of tic douloureaux will wish for less drastic forms of relief and these are available in the form of aspirin and other painkilling preparaitons. It should be noted, however, that such things give only temporary ease from pain.

Freezing the painful area with ethyl chloride spray is another frequently used temporary measure. According to Dr. Wilfred Harris of London, application of heat may only make bad matters worse.

Sometimes, instead of resorting to operations, doctors prefer to inject the branches of the nerve with alcohol. This will often get rid of the pain, but the procedure is something which must be handled only by an expert and gives only temporary relief.

It has been suggested that at times tic douloureaux may be relieved by giving large injections of vitamin B-complex. However, in many instances this method of treatment has not been found successful.

Of course, pain in the face may be produced by many disorders other than trigeminal neuralgia. There may be some inflammation of the muscles, or the difficulty may be due to decayed teeth or possibly to what are known as impacted teeth, which means teeth that have not come through the gums.

Hence, whenever pain in the face develops a careful study by a specialist in disorders of the nervous system would appear advisable. X-rays of the teeth should be taken to help in making a diagnosis.

If it is found that the pain is due to trigeminal neuralgia and is not severe, treatment with medicines may be attempted. If the pain is more severe, alcohol injections might prove of value and in the most severe cases, operation may be carried out.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. E.: What are the symptoms of Paget's disease of the bones?

Answer: Paget's disease of the bones is a chronic condition which affects chiefly the skull, the spine and the long bones in the legs and arms. It causes thickening of the bones, and the large bone in the leg known as the "femur" becomes bent.

The disease usually begins with indefinite pains, in individuals between 50 and 60 years of age. The arms and legs may be sore, the pain being worse at night. Headache and bronchitis also occur. Due to the bending of the legs, a patient becomes shorter in height.

No treatment which will cure this condition, has as yet been discovered.

M. D.: Is there a cure for undulant fever?

Answer: There is no specific treatment for undulant fever. However, with proper hygiene and plenty of rest, the condition, in most cases, clears up. A specific serum has been used but has not been found especially effective.

A Sickle To Grind

IN A PAMPHLET by Harold Laski, chairman of the British Labor party's executive committee, the case against admitting Communists to party membership is stated in these words:

"Once it regards itself as the vanguard of the proletariat, the Communist party must permeate the ranks of the Labor party in order to dominate its life. Then only can it prepare for that dictatorship which is the necessary method of consolidating its authority after the proletariat has hurled the bourgeoisie from power. It therefore works quite deliberately toward a one-party state."

Communists, Laski points out, hope to move into power after a "long period of economic ruin which would break the nation's faith in the institutions of parliamentary democracy."

This is not isolated testimony. It is the thought of a political scientist who has worked a lifetime with the British labor movement. It is, moreover, testimony with bearing on the position of the Communist party in the United States, which tends to follow in many of its social trends patterns already familiar in Britain. There is the same issue between Communists and moderates in the American labor movement, even though it is not yet understood here so clearly as Laski understands it in England.

Within the last few days, the Greater New York Central Trades and Labor Council ordered its three-quarters of a million AFL members to boycott this year's May day parade, charging that the parade is run by Communists.

A CIO union identified with that organization's "pink wing," the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers, recently attacked Secretary of State Byrnes, Senators Vandenberg and Connally, Herbert Hoover, Edward R. Stettinius jr. and, more broadly, the Truman administration. Its attack was based on resentment of a foreign policy alleged to be unfriendly to Russia. "The fight," reported The New York Times, "is similar to that which raged within the CIO during the period of the Nazi-Soviet pact when left-wing unions were accusing President Roosevelt of being an 'imperialist' and a 'war-monger' and were charging that 'monopolists' were leading this country into a war in support of Great Britain. When Hitler turned his troops against Russia, these unions became prime supporters of the Roosevelt policy."

In the recent convention of United Automobile Workers, no secret was made of the fact that the fundamental issue lay between the social and economic philosophies of Walter Reuther, an avowed socialist, and R. J. Thomas and George F. Addes, who were favored by the union's Communist minority. There have been numerous instances before, during and since the war when organized labor's leaders and spokesmen have grappled with and sometimes admitted they were grappling with the issues of Communist control of labor organizations.

The gravest indictment brought against the Roosevelt administration by its critics and the most damaging accusation against the Truman administration is that the United States government, in the name of broader rights for organized labor, has given the methodical sickle grinders of the left wing influence out of all proportion to their numbers and to their following among American working people.

There are times when one looks in vain for signs in the American labor movement that its moderate members comprehend the highness of the stakes for which the Communist minority is playing. The Communists are not interested in the principle of Samuel Gompers, who believed in a larger share for workers. They are hoping to establish the principles of Karl Marx, who believed in exclusion of all other rights—and in the practices of his followers who believe in economic and political dictatorship. Their method, as Harold Laski says, is to induce economic ruin as the requisite for breaking the established order.

Germany's Delayed Victories

GERMANY'S military power is shattered, but German power to wage war is still manifest in millions of emaciated bodies and desperate minds in Europe.

The objective of starvation was as important in German plans as the blitz of English cities. It called for systematic elimination of millions of Europeans who had been judged by Hitler and his band of assassins to be unworthy of life. It called for the weakening of other nationalities, to the point where they could be slaves of Germany but could not be their own masters. In the National Socalist blueprint for a Germanized Europe starvation was as much a weapon as the airplane, the rocket, or the booby trap. Moreover, it was a weapon with long-range effect, something that would continue to work for Germany years after the close of the war's fighting phase. Its casualties would accumulate for a generation—malformed bodies, distorted ideas, lack of energy, hate, declining birth rates, rising death rates.

They would challenge Germany's enemies to act without the stimulus of combat. If they failed—if starvation continued—Germany still could win World War II, because Germans were the best nourished population in Europe. That is why there is need for food relief in Europe.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Move Against Spain To Embarrass U. S., Britain.

WASHINGTON, April 15—The Polish move to induce UN to guarantee Spain is simply a Russian maneuver to embarrass the United States and Britain because we similarly posed the Iran question into UN.

The Polish representative who presented the issue is known as Stanislaw Mach. Furthermore the issue itself originated with the Communist party of France. From that party came the recommendations which resulted in France moving her troops up to the Spanish frontier and closing her border.

In the beginning the United States and Britain went along with the French agitation against Franco. We joined in the publication of a white paper and a manifesto, promising our opposition to Franco, but we soon discovered, to our dismay, that the white paper and manifesto had thwarted its own purpose. Instead of helping to get rid of the Spanish government, it actually strengthened Franco's hold on his people who resented foreign influence and interference.

Similar Experience

We've more recently suffered the same experience in South America. Just before the Argentine election our state department (Spruille Braden) issued strong charges against Colonel Peron, denouncing him for protecting axis agents, and urging the Argentine people to defeat him. He won overwhelmingly. Our interference defeated its purpose. That policy of ours is now in complete rout. Within six weeks after our blue book charges, we have had to come around and appoint an ambassador to Buenos Aires who will bear no political antagonism and publicly take the position that if the Peron government will carry out its pledges under the Act of Chapultepec, we will implement that pact for mutual military assistance with Argentina. This announcement has everywhere been interpreted as simply a face-saving device. The Braden big stick policy is dead.

Such experiences have brought our diplomats to the inevitable conclusion that quarantining would be even less effective and prossibly more disastrous to our purposes. If we cut off food and fuel from the Spanish people, we will be punishing the people, not the government, and by such a step may further strengthen the standing of the government with its people.

But, beyond that, if we succeed in ousting Franco by any means, it is apparent we may be faced with a quasi-Communist regime in Spain (one sympathetic to the Communist party of France, for example) which would be even less cooperative with American and British purposes than is the cowed and quiet Franco. In short, we would hand another nation to Russia.

There is no evidence of any substantial revolutionary movement in Spain. The Spanish Republican government in exile has been telling us for some years that Franco is unpopular with the people and the exertion of outside pressure would accomplish his downfall, but he never falls, and there is no worthwhile objective information to establish the claim of the government-in-exile.

Of Little Consequence

The greater, obvious truth of the matter is that Spain is a small nation of little consequence in world problems. She does not threaten the peace of the world, any more than Argentina is actually a threat to world peace. There is therefore no valid excuse for UN to act in the matter, unless the government-in-exile can trump up some atomic bomb threat.

The Polish move to get the council to act was really a subtle needling of us, as is shown in the manner of its presentation. You will remember in the case of Iran, we took a strong position for a policy of discussion by the security council. The Russians are pinning us to that policy now on Spain. They knew we could not or would not turn around and attempt to stop discussion of any matter so soon after our insistence upon open discussion of Iran, even though the discussion this time may be embarrassing to us. It was a rather clever trick, but our authorities do not believe it will have any serious consequences. They do not believe UN will act after discussion, or that anything effective will be done to break down the American and British foreign policies, which are in complete accord on the Spanish situation.

(The British feel even stronger than we do on the subject.)

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

Quick, Watson—The Want Ads!!!

An Indianapolis gent has hired a private detective agency to find him a place to live.

That's one case where a break isn't expected within 24 hours.

In fact, if they solve it at all, it will make Philo Vance look like a rank and bungling amateur.

But it will be a novelty to private detectives, peeking through keyholes in the hope of not finding anything.

Of course the Thin Man found a place . . . but then not everybody can live in a broom closet.

Incidentally, if this idea catches on, it may open up an entire new era of mystery fiction. Imagine the suspense as an elusive two-room efficiency is relentlessly tracked down by that super sleuth.

Out To Solve Thunder Problem

Solution to Storm Hazards Sought To Aid Fliers.

By ROBERT R. GOLDENSTERN

CHICAGO, April 15—Scientists seeking to overcome the last major obstacle to all-weather flying have begun a three year search for a chink in the armor of the thunderstorm.

Congress has appropriated $200,000 for the project which is being carried out under auspices of the Army, Navy, weather bureau and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Weather instruments, radar equipment, sail planes, P-61 Black Widow Army aircraft and Navy "drone" planes are being assembled at Orlando, Fla., for on-the-spot tests in the region of the greatest thunderstorm frequency in the nation.

The P-61's are scheduled to make simultaneous traverses through the clouds at heights of 5,000 to 25,000 feet. Navy "drone" planes, like those earmarked for use in the atomic bomb tests in the Pacific, will be sent aloft when flying conditions are too perilous for pilots.

On the ground, closely-spaced network of weather stations will record minute pressure changes and related phenomena that occur during a thunderstorm.

The national thunderstorm project is directed by Horace R. Byers, on leave of absence from the University of Chicago's department of meteorology.

Fog, ice formation on wings and excessive air turbulence are the three major obstacles to all-weather flying. Radar and engineering developments can overcome fog and icing, Byers said, but thunderstorms are a meteorological problem still largely unsolved.

The primary purpose of the study, he added was to find a simple procedure for guiding planes around or through thunderstorm areas. Because the nature of such storms is not thoroughly understood at the present time, planes usually are grounded.

Quick Delivery

WILMINGTON, N. C.—Northern markets are currently receiving cut flowers from fields in North Carolina within 12 hours after being cut as Tar Heel bulb growers take advantage of post-war delivery freight by plane.

Introduced by the North Carolina Bulb Growers Association, delivery of cut flowers by plane is now being operated on a semi-weekly basis.

Florists in northern cities are accepting 378,200 cut flowers weekly by plane.

According to Adrian Ludeke, president of the association, the flowers are cut in the morning, boxed 35 dozen to the container, and shipped in the afternoon. A plane-load consists of about 450 boxes or 5,000 pounds, he explained.

Ten cities are covered on three schedules. One route calls for stops at Washington, New York, Boston and Philadelphia; route two Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Chicago.

Cost of freight per load runs from $500 to $700, Ludeke said. He declared the loss of flowers had been negligible as the planes are kept at proper temperature.

Shipment values of the flowers by plane average about $5,000 a load.

Rules the Roost

By The Associated Press

MEDFORD, Ore. — Gentleman Jim's fighting days are numbered at Ed Leach's Lane County farm.

The big 10-pound Plymouth Rock rooster, Leach admits, killed many rats, moles, gophers and snakes—but couldn't stop.

The rooster started attacking Mrs. Leach every time she stepped from the farmhouse, chased Leach's seven-year-old daughter into orchard trees, kept two cats in the barn for weeks, licked all other roosters and even had the family watchdog on guard.

Steel Strike

In the annual report of United States Steel Corp., reviewing events of the past year, there appears this statement on the steel strikes:

"Although the strikers returned to work on Feb. 18, 1946, full operations could not be resumed until several weeks thereafter. On the basis of such reports as are now available, it is estimated that the strike against U. S. Steel resulted in a loss of production of 2.9 millions tons of steel ingots.

"The steelworker finally gained a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour over what he could have obtained, without a strike, through acceptance of U. S. Steel's offer of a wage increase of 15 cents an hour. On the basis of a 44-hour week, the average steelworker lost for the four weeks' duration of the strike approximately $207 in straight-time wages, which he could have had without striking. This loss of wages will require work for 147 weeks, or two years and 10 months, at the 18½ cents increased pay resulting from a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour in order to make up what the worker lost in wages during these four weeks of idleness."

LIFTING THEM OUT OF THE PIT

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, April 15, 1936.

The senate lobby committee was told that John J. Raskob and Pierre S. duPont contributed $5,000 each for the anti-new deal mid-winter convention of Southern Democrats at Macon, Ga.

George White, former governor of Ohio and Mrs. Agnes Hofman Badlwin of Columbus were married at the suburban Rocky Fork Country club in Columbus. White was 63. His bride claimed the distinction of being the only woman ever presented at the court of St. James, having been sponsored by Charles G. Dawes when he was ambassador to Great Britain.

Mrs. Dorothy Waddingham, 34-year-old mother of five children, was hanged in the Winston Green prison at Birmingham, England for the poison slaying of a 55-year-old crippled patient in her Nottingham nursery.

Members of the Gradale sorority entertained with an Easter dance at the Elks' club. Miss Nancy Carshadden, general chairman, was assisted by a committee composed of Miss Rosella Fletcher, Miss June Taylor and Miss Ruth Williams.

Mrs. Walter Minshall, who was moving to a farm home near Marion, was complimented with a handkerchief shower at a meeting of the Westminister guild of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church at the home of Mrs. Robert Landon of Jefferson street.

Mrs. George Brady of Buffalo, N. Y. was the guest of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Wood of South State street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, April 15, 1926.

Safe-crackers broke into the office of the King Lumber Co. at Uncapher avenue and Columbia street and after wrecking the safe got less than a dollar in small change and a few stamps.

Subpoenas in padlock proceedings were served on 42 night clubs and cabarets in New York City by prohibition agents. It was the fourth and largest prohibition enforcement drive under the direction of United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner.

Improvements costing approximately $7,000 were under way at the Hornell Ice & Cold Storage plant here in preparation for the summer's business.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Morral of South State street arrived home from a five months' visit in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hertzer entertained the Harding High school junior basketball team with a 6 o'clock dinner at their home on Columbia street. Guests were Bud Lewis, Benjamin Gilmore, Joseph Drake, Charles Noyes, Herbert Willey and Ben Schertzer.

Daily Bible Thought

Miracles come from faith. Faith is not just credulity, it has a powerful creative quality. No one ever amounted to anything who lacked faith. The cynic is a minus quantity of no worth to humanity nor to himself: "For ye are all sons of God through faith in Jesus Christ."—Gal. 3:26.

Spring and Sulphur

By The Associated Press

AUGUSTA, Me.—Sulphur and molasses, favored spring tonic of pre-vitamin days, is still going strong in Augusta.

A druggist, who said he operated the old-fashioned type of drug-store, told of many recent purchases of sulphur.

"Of course, we don't ask customers what they are going to do with it," he added, "but I know that many of them are going to use it for sulphur and molasses."

Atom Seen as Cancer Aid

Research Work To Be Useful in Seeking Cure.

MUCH of the material discovered from research on the atomic bomb, as well as many of the scientists who participated in the project, will facilitate future cancer research. This hopeful message was delivered a few days ago in the course of an address made by Col. Stafford L. Warren of the National Association of Science Writers during a dinner at the Hotel Biltmore in New York City.

Col. Warren, who was in charge of medical supervision of workers on the Manhattan Project, and former cancer authority of the University of Rochester Medical School, revealed that about 2,000 scientists who worked on the atomic bomb will soon be released from their governmental duties. Many of these scientists he said, will enlist in the drive to find the cause and control of cancer.

Way To Find Cure

Speaking to the assembled science writers officials of the American Cancer Society and prominent medical authorities, he suggested, "What we need in order to find the cure for cancer, is a great national crusading group that will get behind a program without arousing a fear complex and making our population neurotic. That group is the American Cancer Society."

Presiding at the meeting was Dr. Frank E. Adair, President of the American Cancer Society who cited the fact that, between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day, cancer killed more than twice as many Americans as did the Nazis and Japs. Ranking cancer as "our number one enemy," Dr. Adair predicted that, "unless we do something about it, 17 million Americans now living will die of cancer."

Dr. Lewis H. Weed, director of the Medical Sciences Division of the National Research Council, on leave from his post as Dean of Johns Hopkins Medical School, reviewed the mighty strides made in war research and called them worthy of emulation by cancer research workers. "A great national effort," he said, "may produce the desired results within a decade or two—or even less".

The chairman of the National Research Council's "Committee on Growth", Dr. Cornelius P. Rhoads, disclosed that 90 of the nation's leading scientists from various fields related to cancer have been recruited to plan a coordinated program for research. These scientists, he said, organized into appropriate specialized panels, are presently working on plans which will entail an expenditure of from 3 to 5 millions dollars on research during 1946.

Full Support Pledged

Speaking as chairman of the executive committee of the American Cancer Society, Elmer H. Bobst pledged the full support of the business men on the board under the leadership of Eric A. Johnston, former President of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Clarence C. Little, director of the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory of Bar Harbor, Maine, declared "On the basis of present knowledge alone from 30 to 50 per cent of all cancer cases can be saved from needless death".

Stressing the point that, if the same effort were expended on cancer research as went into making of the atomic bomb Col. Warren said, "we could make this dread disease sterile". To answer the charge that the idea was fantastic, Col. Warren pointed out that the atomic bomb was called fantastic too, and added, "This problem is no more impossible than the atomic bomb. In fact, I would have wagered five years ago that the cure for cancer could be found before we would have been able to produce an atomic bomb".

Rafael de la Colina, Mexican Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States—"The Spanish government-in-exile is the only legitimate representation of the Republic and is the proper instrumentality to bring together all the democratic elements of Spain that the United States, Great Britain and France have called upon to oust the dictator."

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The GI's Crash the UN Meeting

THERE is talk of war veterans going to a meeting of the United Nations and "busting it out in meetin'" with a few demands. Which prophecies us in a book written by yr ed two years ago. "Private Purkey's Private Peace" in which three GI's crashed a similar meeting, spoke for peace and got into headlines all over the world.

* * *

Oscar and the boys got up a blueprint for peace, invaded a session of diplomats and started talking.

After quite an exchange they were silenced and ejected.

"What's so private about peace?" demanded Oscar while being ejected. "It wasn't a private war. If we are out of bounds at a meetin' why act like we was public enemies? I've two and three. We're scared as hell about peace. It keeps us awake nights. We think it's up to us to worry."

Anyhow in the book (which may have reached us the prophet and the son of a prophet) the GI's handed the newspaper men a copy of their Blueprint for Peace as they were getting the bums' rush and this was it:

THE GI BLUEPRINT FOR PEACE

The GI is plenty worried.

He is afraid the war aims is in danger of low visibility, leaks in noble hopes, confused objectives, backsliding, and signs of a frost on high ideals.

He gets the creeps at the thought of a old peace made from the 1919 pattern and can't no better than No Smoking signs in sin and nothing gives him the heebie-jeebies like the chance another peace will turn out to be a rest period in a slaughter house. And he makes these demands as necessary to a new world:

1. The abolition of baloney, bunk, grease, applesauce, and what is commonly called the old malarkey from all deliberations.

2. No double talk. (This means postwar.)

3. Night and day illumination of the peace posts. (And no dimming of the lights to secretly move the posts.)

4. Strict adherence to the postwar goals expressed by our leaders when men was dyin' for them. (And no stalling.)

5. A realization of the fact this world is one-half man and one-half rat. (Even a 5 per cent rat quota is too high.)

6. The same courage by peacemakers as was expected of men in the fighting battles, mountain passes, jungles, trenches, and holes, and on all the oceans of the world.

7. The constant realization that UN must come in on a backbone and a wallop and not on a paper wing and a prayer.

8. An approach to all problems in the spirit of King David and never in the spirit of Mickey Mouse.

9. The creation of a League of Nations that never mistakes a double chin for muscle, don't think a backbone is something to be had only by strip-teasers.

10. A pledge by the four great Powers to cement relations (but never confuse cement with bubble gum) and to stay in the line-up to the finish no matter who comes to bat.

11. No determination to force the American, British, or Russian way of life on anybody. (A way of life is not no nightshirt or no hat.)

12. There should be a understanding that while the builders of the bright new world must admit a duty to improve the lot of peoples in many parts of the globe, one way of life can never be merged with no other through shotgun weeding or the distribution of it through a leaky hose.

13. Closer attention has got to be paid to the microphone as a instrument of troublemaking war, and disaster, and there should be a new national test for radio orators with a mess.

* * *

P.S. The greatest danger to the peace is scrapping among ourselves. England has got to understand that to get along with Russia. Uncle Sam she has got to regard "God Save the King" as taking in a few more people than it does. Uncle Sam has got to understand that from a Russian and British angle he can't always be regarded as the answer man on a global "What's Your Problem" program. And the Russians has got to realize that while Russia may not bear that walks like a man he ain't the best that walks like three men.

Lay Off, Mr. President

By TRUMAN TWILL

About this business of posing in the locomotive cab, Mr. President, isn't it about time we understood each other?

We can understand, we voters, why you posed in the cab once. It's an old custom for chief executives to show a friendly interest in the engineer, like speaking to the barber before he shaves your neck.

If we were the head man we'd get in the cab too—once—to satisfy our curiosity. That's the advantage of being head man.

But pictures of you smiling amiably at constituents from locomouve cabs are getting down, Mr. President. You are getting into a rut. We've all seen the engine cab pose, so why drop it?

In fact, Mr. President, why not tell the cameraman to snap their shutters some place else from now on, unless they want to be playing cute? They have been behaving like a crowd of school boys with a new Brownie and two rolls of film.

There have been pictures of you doing this and that, smelling flowers, throwing out the first ball, playing the piano and there will be, in due time, a little masterpiece of you pitching horseshoes. Your dime will get our dollar, there will be one showing you measuring with a fish, but we'd rather not think about it.

This reminds voters, bless us all, of Herbert Hoover going fishing in a choker collar. It makes us think of Calvin Coolidge peeping shyly from an Indian war bonnet. It stirs memories of Teddy Roosevelt's too-toothy grin and Harding's funny Woodrow Wilson looked when he laughed with the infectious laugh. It was a relief when the cameraman had to lay off the kid stuff from 1933 to 1945 because of Franklin D. Roosevelt's infirmity.

News photographers to the contrary notwithstanding, Mr. President, the people of this country are good and sick of phreak photos of chief executives. They know darned well you don't belong in any engine cabs. It would be more natural to see you posing in one of those corn backgrounds—two snapshots for two bits.

Remember, Mr. President, news photographers are paid for getting something new and different. The one who can bring in a snapshot of you washing out your socks or doing a handstand in your White House bedroom gets a bonus. And he doesn't split it with you. He just laughs at you for being a photographic phool.

You don't have to butter the photographers, vote, Mr. President. If they all voted for the other guy when the time comes, you'd never miss them.

Britain Seeks Lost Airmen

America's projected search for 20,000 missing servicemen has a parallel in England. Reports from London said that RAF investigators are working in teams to comb continental Europe for traces of 39,000 RAF men missing or killed in air operations over former enemy territory.

NEW BLOOMINGTON SCHOOL IS CLOSED

Action Is Taken Because of Scarlet Fever.

The school at New Bloomington was temporarily closed to school sessions this morning because of one case of scarlet fever which arose out over the weekend, it was reported by Dr. N. Smith, county health commissioner.

A group of teachers, parents, school board members and others for pupils went on a sightseeing trip to Cincinnati over the weekend. Following their arrival there, one of the boys, the son of the superintendent of the school, Paul Burns, was taken ill and was returned to his home Sunday night. The attending physician pronounced it scarlet fever the morning. Eighteen school pupils and 14 adults were on the trip.

Cromer Johnson president of the school board, following a talk with other members of the board and faculty, ordered the buses not to take the students to school this morning. Dr. Smith reported that the nurses from the health department will make daily checks at the homes of those in the sight-seeing party. There had been no cases in the school prior to this one. The school will remain closed until it is considered safe to reopen.

PLAYMATES' QUARREL FATAL TO OHIO BOY

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., April 15—Thirteen-year-old Tony Craycraft was killed by a shotgun blast yesterday, in what Deputy Sheriff J. R. Ramsey described as a playmates' quarrel.

Coroner H. C. Schick returned a verdict of homicide.

Another youth, John King, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley King, was wounded by the blast, Ramsey reported.

Ramsey said the shooting occurred while a group of children were at play at Skyway Park, a war veterans' housing project at nearby Wright Field. He said it resulted from an argument involving the throwing of a rock.

The deputy said no charges had been filed, and Greene County Prosecutor Marcus Shoup said he planned to question the children further today.

One playmate was questioned and placed in parents' custody.

The slain youth was the son of Apostle P. Craycraft, an Army veteran employed at Wright Field.

STEP-FATHER HELD IN INFANT-BEATING

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 15—While tiny Roberta Fountaine remained in critical condition today from blows inflicted Saturday, her 26-year-old step-father Charles Vier was held by police on a charge of investigation of attempted murder in connection with the beating.

Attendants at the suburban Highland Park General hospital reported the eight-month-old baby had improved slightly during the night, but not enough to be taken from the critical list. She is suffering from a skull fracture and "multiple internal injuries," they said.

Highland Park Police Captain Ornedlo Utley who signed the complaint against Vier, said the step-father told him he became angry when the baby cried and "slammed her down in her crib."

The bed broke and Roerta fell on the floor, the captain added. Then, Utley quoted Vier as saying, he put her on a rocking chair and struck her several more times.

Mrs. Margaret Vier, the baby's mother, found her unconscious and summoned police.

Communist Paper Cites Atomic Work

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 15—The Communist Daily Worker, in a Paris dispatch, today quoted Spanish resistance sources as saying "secret information" had established the existence of an atomic research station staffed by Gefman scientists near the Spanish mountain village of Portugalette.

The dispatch said the station is situated in a rocky, almost inaccessible hill just outside the village—which is five miles south of Bilbao—and is guarded day and night by special guards, most of whom villagers declared spoke German.

Cancer is the second greatest killer of men.

CIO RAPS RED CROSS, WILL LET PACT EXPIRE

Says Agency Too Long Isolated from People.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—The CIO's War Relief Committee today declared the American Red Cross has isolated itself too long from the people and the community and announced it would not renew its fund-raising agreement with the organization.

Irving Abramson, national chairman of the Community Services committee, made public a letter to Basil O'Connor, Red Cross chairman, containing the decision, but leaving the way open for continuance of the agreement if the committee were granted an opportunity to participate in Red Cross activities on a community level.

During the war both the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor organized workers within their ranks to help raise funds for the Red Cross which reimbursed them for expenses incurred in the fund-raising.

A spokesman for the Labor League for Human Rights, which negotiated the AFL arrangement with the Red Cross, said the AFL would have no comment on whether it would continue its agreement.

Abramson said that during the war the CIO's committee made repeated requests for an opportunity to participate in Red Cross activities and services on a community level, but without success.

The agreement with the Red Cross, he added, has been "purely a fund-raising arrangement" under which CIO volunteers helped raise $50,000,000 in three campaigns. The current agreement expires April 30.

In December, 1945, O'Connor said the two labor organizations had raised between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000 for the 1945 Red Cross drive and had been reimbursed $238,308 "for their actual expenses."

Union Pay Demand Touches Off Fight

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—A lively scrap over a union-demanded wage provision built up today as the senate got back to long-range housing legislation.

Both the AFL and the CIO want a clause inserted requiring that the "prevailing wage of the locality" be paid on all housing constructed with government financial aid.

As the measure now stands, such a clause applies only to public housing and large-scale apartment projects constructed under the legislation aimed at getting 15,000,000 city and farm dwelling units built in the next 10 years.

The senate banking committee refused, however, to apply the "prevailing wage" clause to individual homes built with FHA financing.

There is no major controversy over the principal provisions of the bill which has the bipartisan sponsorship of Senators Wagner, Ellender (D-La) and Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

NEW FLARE-UP SEEN COMING IN POLITICS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Political fires — stoked from two side over the weekend—were banked today, but a Democratic caucus Wednesday promises to fan them back to white heat.

Party members in the house meet behind locked doors that day to consider what action, if any, to take against what many of them consider serio is mistakes by national headquarters.

Meanwhile, both Democratic and Republican headquarters leveled critical blasts at each other.

The G.O.P. seized upon the start of President Truman's second year in the White House to issue a statement saying his first year was marked by "confusion" in all fields.

It said Mr. Truman "recites high-sounding statements of foreign policy, but these are far different from the actions which he approves." Domestic affairs, it added, have been "in perpetual crisis."

Simultaneous with the critical Republican review, Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan addressed another open letter to his G.O.P. counterpart, Carroll Reece. This one said Reece's reply to the first letter "performs a service in making it clear the Republican party proposes to do nothing at all" about major questions.

Reece had responded to Hannegan's request for a statement on Republican policies by calling attention to the party's statement of principles. Hannegan said he could not find "a single proposal for positive and specific action" on inflation, housing, strikes, defense, health and the proposed loan to Britain.

NO. 1 FUGITIVE BACK IN DEATH ROW AGAIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Earl McFarland, 25-year-old condemned slayer, was returned to the District jail today.

McFarland, under sentence to be electrocuted June 14, escaped from the jail's fourth-floor death row April 3 with the aid of a can opener, by cutting through a ventilator, after he and Joseph D. Medley, also under death sentence for murder, overpowered two guards who had been playing cards with them. Medley was caught the same day.

The former Marine was brought by three U. S. marshals to Washington from Knoxville, Tenn., where he was caught by the FBI last Thursday.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told his White House news conference that a telegram was received this morning from Willard Albert, Knoxville, Tenn. lawyer, who represented McFarland there. He said Albert made an unsuccessful attempt to talk to Mr. Truman personally by telephone Saturday night.

Ross said that the telegram asserted that Albert was speaking in behalf of McFarland and that he was sending a letter to the President. He said that the expected letter likely would be referred to justice department for its consideration.

SCHOOL PRE-EASTER SERVICE HELD TODAY

200 Attend Second in Hi-Y Girl Reserve Series.

The second pre-Easter service sponsored by the Harding High school Girl Reserves and Hi-Y clubs was held this morning at Central Christian church with approximately 200 teachers and students attending. The service was conducted under the direction of Lee Weisland, Charles Wuan, Joan May and Martha Midlam, co-chairmen.

Following the organ prelude by Mrs. Virgil Curl, the congregation sang the hymn, 'Jesus Calls Us.' James Hill gave the call to worship, followed by the responsive reading led by Richard Foster. Preceding the sermonette a quartet composed of Arvanna Reed, Daisy Clemmons, Phyliss Middleton and Anna Clemmons sang a Negro spiritual, "Just Tell Jesus."

The text of the sermonette, "The Summoning of The Cross," delivered by Joyce Bohyer, emphasized that Jesus died upon the cross to redeem the sins of the world. Miss Bohyer stated that although most high school seniors have formulated a philosophy of life from their home life, school life, and Bible knowledge, they still did not feel that Jesus was a human being like themselves. She stated that Christ died in the same way as two thieves because he felt that God's will was supreme and that His strength lay in that will. She concluded her talk by saying that living is another mile on the road to everlasting happiness which is proved by four facts: 1. Christ lived and died for us—arose and lives on. 2. He speaks to all people no matter what race, creed, or color. 3. He controls the universe and nature. 4. He makes our lives worth while and a stepping stone to happiness.

Closing prayer was by Jenette Stewart and benediction by James Hill.

the house banking committee would cost consumers $2,000,000,000 in the next 12 months, including a 10 per cent boost in clothing prices and an overall $425,000,000 increase in the retail costs of automobiles.

Administration supporter said privately, however, they would consider themselves fortunate to limit OPA revisions to those written by the banking committee.

Already written and awaiting only formal introduction are amendments to:

1. Force OPA to drop its $750,000,000 a year meat subsidy and allow meat ceilings to rise proportionately.

2. Require OPA to fix price ceilings so as to assure each manufacturer a profit on every product he makes. Prices now are fixed on an industrywide basis.

at some places, but cheaper types of fresh meats are very short.

Most meat markets here get deliveries from national slaughtering houses on Mondays and Thursdays. Judging from the general situation, deliveries Thursday will be no better than today's, it was believed. Some store managers said they intended to hold back with Thursday's deliveries so that they would be able to remain open Saturday.

Opinions of local dealers varied as to causes of the meat shortages. They were almost unanimous, however, in blaming the black market. It was also suggested that the large slaughtering houses have reduced their slaughtering activities due to OPA price restrictions. It was not believed that shipping of meat overseas was an important factor in the shortage here, since, the large majority of meat taken by UNRA is canned, and canned meat is less scarce than any other type here.

OPA MEAT PRICE SPECIALIST COMING

Arthur Roth, a price specialist on meats from the Cincinnati OPA district office, will be in Marion Thursday at the price-control board at 169½ East Center street. He will instruct slaughterers of beef on slaughtering regulations, duties of reporting, and on provisions of regulations concerning the slaughtering of beef animals.

NAZI PHILOSOPHER REBUKED BY COURT

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, April 15—Greying Alfred Rosenberg, ofttime philosopher of the Nazi party, testified in the war crimes trial today that he studied in Moscow in 1918 and "what I experienced in Russia persuaded me to go to Germany and work there against any trend toward Bolshevism."

He launched almost immediately into philosophical discussion which Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding judge of the international military tribunal, sharply interrupted.

"Confine yourself to the charge which is not that they (the Nazis) attempted the reconstruction of Germany but that they used that reconstruction to attack races outside."

Rosenberg, one of 22 German leaders on trial for their lives, said he was one of Adolf Hitler's earliest comrades having joined his fledgling party in 1919 after meeting the future dictator in Munich. He said he was a Baltic German, born in Estonia, but always considered Germany "my spiritual home."

The court earlier concluded four days of evidence from Erich Kaltenbrunner and his witnesses.

FORGERY, WIFE SLAYING INVESTIGATION CONTINUES

New Witnesses Called In Alfred L. Cline Case.

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15—District Attorney Edmund G. Brown called new witnesses to appear today in the forgery trial of Alfred L. Cline and before a grand jury investigating the deaths of at least two of his former wives.

Clark Sellers, Los Angeles handwriting expert who was prominent in the trial of Bruno Hauptmann for the kidnap-slaying of the Lindbergh baby, was to testify in the forgery trial.

Assistant District Attorney Norman Elkington said the state would endeavor to prove through the handwriting expert's testimony that the name of Mrs. Eva Delora Krebs Cline was forged by her husband on affidavits to procure stock certificates after her death.

Cline is accused of forgery and grand theft involving the estates of the wealthy Mrs. Krebs Cline of Chicago, and another of his wives, Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt Lewis Cline of Oakland.

Brown disclosed witnesses from other states would be brought before the grand jury in connection with the deaths of Mrs. Krebs Cline and Mrs. Lewis Cline.

The 56-year-old Gospel-quoting Cline, a former convict is charged in Dallas, Tex., with the murder of a woman. Witnesses at the forgery trial here have identified her by photographs as Mrs. Krebs Cline. The woman was cremated under the name of Alice W. Carpenter.

Professor Slays Self Denying He Murdered Wife

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 15—The end of the story of a penniless immigrant from Germany who worked up from the garbage chute to a university professorship was written today in the suicide notes protesting his innocence in the poisoning of his attractive 41-year-old wife.

Dr. Adolph Zeeh, 48-year-old professor of German at the University of Missouri was found fatally shot in the head in the basement of his modest home yesterday. He had been questioned until midnight in the death of the former Mrs. Zeeh, and a coroner's jury had been induced by arsenic poisoning.

"In the face of the step I am taking, I want to assure you for the last time I had nothing whatsoever to do with my wife's death," a note addressed to and disclosed by Prosecuting Attorney George A. Spencer began. It was Spencer said, one of 10 left by Zeeh.

But Spencer announced the case closed, the professor had reacted "unsatisfactorily" to a lie detector test Saturday night. No motive, said Spencer, had been found in the poisoning of Mrs. Zeeh, former citizen of France and a mother of two children by another marriage.

retroactive pay. The company offered pay raises of 18½ cents an hour or $1.48 a day, effective April 1. But the union asked that the raises be made retroactive to Oct. 1, expiration date of their last contract.

Other Labor News

With 740,000 kept idle in labor disputes throughout the nation, there were these other developments elsewhere.

1. A 15-cents hourly wage raise settlement narrowly averted a strike, set for midnight Saturday, at the National & American Sugar Refining Companies, which process 60 per cent of the nations cane sugar. National and American employ 4,200 AFL and CIO workers. Revere Refining Co. of Boston, employing 300, was closed after settlement talks failed.

2. With CIO union ratification of settlement terms complete the vanguard of 30,000 International Harvester Co. employes was expected to return to work in 10 plants as contracts are signed, probably today. The settlement of the 84-day-old strike called for an 18 cents hourly raise and a 10 per cent general wage increase.

3. A four-day street car and bus strike at Birmingham, Ala., was called off pending abritration of the AFL union's demand for an 18½ cents an hour wage raise. Involved were 1,000 employes of the Birmingham Electric Co.

4. As the work stoppage of 400,000 AFL United Mine Workers went into its third week, the magazine Steel reported production of sheets, most critical of all steel products, has not been materially affected, but output of bars and rails has been considerably reduced by the fuel shortage resulting from the strike. Steel production last week dropped six points to 75½ per cent of capacity, the magazine estimated.

5. A strike of city bus drivers in Lansing, Mich., continued, but Kalamazoo, Mich., drivers ended a walkout that was begun last Friday, with negotiations to continue on AFL union grievances.

How not to be popular

Fellows and girls who "rate" with the crowd know their popularity depends on getting along well with people. There's no better way to begin than by being fair with your telephone party line neighbors. Your courtesy in co-operating . . . keeping your conversations brief . . . sharing the party line . . . is a super step in the right direction towards real popularity. Why not try it and see?

A SCHOOL BUILDING AND IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

Last fall practically 65% of our voters favored the school building bond issue as it was presented.

Since that time many hours of study were spent on the program to try to make it as nearly perfect as possible for the good of all of Marion.

One thing is certain. In our study and in conversation with hundreds of citizens we found that EVERY ONE AGREES THAT MARION AND MARION'S YOUTH DESERVES NEW AND BETTER SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

This program will be presented to you in detail between now and May 7. It is a program vital to Marion and our children.

We honestly believe that both those who favored the last one and those who opposed it can go along with this one — enthusiastically.

The program will be presented to you in a series of radio and newspaper messages. We ask that you give them your close attention. Study them from the viewpoints of:

1. The physical need for better, safer buildings.
2. Our obligation to the children of this and coming generations.
3. The practical and economic advantage of authorizing the bond issue now.
4. The part adequate schools play in attracting new residents and new industries to Marion.
5. The advantage of having a building program ready when work gets slack and jobs are needed.
6. Can any opposition be important enough to justify doing nothing about our school problem?
7. Every citizen was given the opportunity to have his say in framing this plan.

This is the most important decision, for the future of Marion and its children, we have had to make in a generation. Please study and weigh the facts carefully so you may vote wisely. Thanks.
